LU-VE Group joins Eurovent Middle East

Dubai, 16 January 2025. Refrigeration specialist LU-VE Group joins the regional association Eurovent Middle East in a move underlining the growing importance of energy efficiency and sustainability in industrial and commercial refrigeration.

Founded in 1985, LU-VE Group is a well-known global brand in the refrigeration segment, and the second largest producer of air heat exchangers in Europe. LU-VE Group has reached a leading position in the HVACR industry, designing and manufacturing its products based on advanced technologies in the fields of industrial and commercial refrigeration and industrial air conditioning.

Mr Andrea Paltrinieri, Managing Director of LU-VE Middle East, states: "LU-VE Group is dedicated to advancing efficiency and reliability in the refrigeration industry. This commitment is reflected not only in our Eurovent Certified products but also in our focus on the education, training, and qualification of personnel, which remains an area of significant need. We fully support the initiatives of Eurovent Middle East and look forward to collaborating with our peers to enhance awareness and knowledge within the market. The use of Eurovent Certified products is particularly crucial in the Middle East, where extremely high temperatures demand the highest standards of performance and reliability. These certified products bring advantages to all stakeholders in the refrigeration industry by guaranteeing both quality and energy efficiency."

Mr Andrea Cavalet, President of Eurovent Middle East, adds: "The addition of LU-VE Group as a member to our association greatly strengthens our expertise and outreach in the refrigeration sector, which sees strong and consistent growth in the region. We need the collective efforts of all to increase the quality of the solutions, keeping reliability and energy efficiency at the highest priority to reduce operational costs as well as the carbon footprint along the complete food cold chain and in industrial refrigeration."
