MSA Safety Incorporated joins Eurovent Middle East

Dubai, 04 February 2025. MSA Safety Incorporated, a global provider of gas and refrigerant analysis, detection, monitoring and tracking solutions for the HVACR industry, is the most recent addition to the Eurovent Middle East membership base.

Driven by its mission of safety, MSA Safety, Inc., has been at the forefront of safety innovation since 1914, playing an instrumental but crucial role in helping to protect workers and facility infrastructure around the world. The MSA Safety product portfolio provides data-driven insight for leak detection, which helps identify and reduce refrigerant emissions events and assists with regulatory compliance and sustainability.

As the shift to more sustainable refrigerants continues, proper safety protocols, education, and training in the HVACR industry are more critical than ever. Outlining MSA's motivation for joining the Association, Jason Shilliday, Director of HVAC-R Sales International shares: "MSA Safety's membership with Eurovent Middle East highlights our commitment to providing industry professionals with the expertise and solutions for refrigerant handling. Through certified technical training, such as the F-Gas Certification, we empower technicians to work safely, efficiently, and confidently to make informed decisions about their compliance goals as they relate to industry standards. We're proud to support this initiative through the HVACR Leadership Academy by Eurovent Middle East."

Nerissa Deoraj, Executive Director of Middle East adds: "Eurovent Middle East's educational and technical offerings reflect the industry's collective effort to enhance technical competence. We are committed to providing the best resources from expert trainers and top-tier products to advanced monitoring equipment. MSA's membership reinforces our shared goal of improving competence through quality education and products, driving safer practices and a sustainable future for our industry."
